Legislators invite public to voice their opinions on Saturday April 25th

State Senator Janet Bewley (D-Mason) and State Representative Beth Meyers (D-Bayfield) will hold a listening session April 25th on Governor Walker's proposed 2015-2017 state budget. The session will be held at the Northern Great Lakes Visitor Center from 2:00 to 3:30 pm. Bewley and Meyers want to provide local residents with an opportunity to voice their opinions on how the Governor's proposed budget will affect their family, friends and neighbors in Northern Wisconsin.

The listening sessions is open to the public and the lawmakers urge any citizen concerned about the impact this budget could have on their community to participate. "The state budget is one of the most important pieces of legislation that we will consider during the next two years. It is essential that the citizens of the North be given a chance to offer their views and influence its outcome," the lawmakers stated.

If anyone is unable to attend but would still like to submit testimony they can do so by emailing Senator Bewley at sen.bewley@legis.wi.gov, or Representative Meyers at rep.meyers@legis.wi.gov
